

Irish Nurses and Midwives Organisation
Working Together

Seeks
Two Permanent
Industrial Relations Officers

One for our Cork Office

One for our Dublin Office to service our North East Region

The INMO, as the largest professional union for nurses and midwives, represents circa 40,000 members in all disciplines and areas of the Irish health service.

The Organisation provides a full range of services including industrial relations, continuing education and professional development, together with the most comprehensive dedicated library and research facilities in the country.

A vacancy has now arisen for two Industrial Relations Officer to service our growing membership - one for our Southern Region based in our Cork Office and one to service our North East Office based in Dublin Office.

This challenging post involves the provision of expert professional services in the areas of industrial relations, professional development, training and recruitment.

A nursing qualification is desirable, but not essential, and applicants should have excellent organisational, communication and team working skills. Applicants should have a good working knowledge of the Irish health system.

A qualification in, or experience of, Industrial Relations / Human Resource Management is also desirable as is a commitment to the wider trade union movement.

A panel may be formed from which future appointments could be made.

Salary Scale: General Manager Grade - Health Service Executive.

The job description for the post is available from the General Secretary's Office or from our website www.inmo.ie. Detailed curriculum vitae, to Phil Ni Sheaghda, General Secretary, INMO, Whitworth Building, North Brunswick Street, Dublin 7, not later than 12.00 noon, on Monday, 29th April 2019, with envelope marked "IRO Post " or email to : phil.nisheaghda@inmo.ie