A New Year and a New Voice for Students and New Graduates.

Student/New Graduate Officer Introduction:

My name is Neal Donohue and I am delighted to be appointed to this position. I qualified as a RGN in 2006, and I have spent much of my time working in the Intellectual Disabilities Sector. I was an INMO Rep. in my previous place of work and bring with me a lot of experience of working in a challenging environment.

I support the position that in order to find a solution to the ongoing crisis in health care we need to develop a sustainable workforce that is supported, respected and compensated appropriately. I plan to continue the great work carried out by my predecessor Liam Conway over the last year using the Student Internship Survey to support the recruitment and retention of Student Nurses/Midwives in Ireland.

I will continue to liaise with Student and New Graduate Nurses to help them shape a more positive career through support and collective bargaining. I am here to help, so get in touch via my contact details below.

Cornmarket Group Financial Services will again be sponsoring the 'Preceptor of the Year Award' for 2018 For further details please visit www.inmo.ie

A group of Student Nurses and New Graduates from the Norway Nurses Organisation visited INMO HQ. This provided a great opportunity to share experiences and knowledge. The group was highly impressed with the INMO facilities for nursing education, including the Library, Professional Development Centre, and the Richmond building. We discussed challenges facing Nursing Students and Graduates going forward. We will continue to confer on issues such as the regulation of nursing education, and the future of the Nursing Profession internationally.
